Pregnancy Yoga Teacher Training

This course is fully accredited by
The Yoga Alliance UK and
Full worldwide insurance is available

This Course Features

The course is suitable for qualified yoga teachers or those working in the childbirth arena (Midwives, Childbirth Educators, Physiotherapists, Doulas etc).

This modular programme gives a comprehensive foundation for teaching pre and postnatal yoga and birthing classes.

More importantly, it will teach you how to empower and give women confidence in their natural abilities to birth. Our style is to teach the theory in an interactive and detailed manner while ensuring it is practically and safely applied.

- Postnatal anatomy
- Postnatal Pilates
- Infant development
- Infant engagement
- Postnatal specific problems
- Infant yoga
- Postnatal asana

What Our Past Students Say

“I found the course extremely enjoyable and interesting, well presented and well run. I felt it was very factual and the information was well researched. I enjoyed the yoga part immensely and found I personally benefitted from practicing yoga more regularly. There was a lot of valuable information given on the benefits of yoga for pregnancy and labour. There was a whole section on coping with labour where many different natural ways of coping were discussed and conventional medical methods were explored. There was an extra weekend giving information on aromatherapy, acupuncture and homeopathy in pregnancy in labour which I found very illuminating. I feel I have personally benefitted from the course as well as expanding my scope of knowledge. I also feel I have gained a more holistic approach to pregnant and labouring women and their partners which will influence how I work with people in the future.”

BRENDA MURPHY, MIDWIFE & PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE

I did this course with my (then) 3 month old daughter on the mat with me. I loved every weekend and it's a testimony to Melissa's fab teaching skill and engaging course content that, despite horrendous sleeping patterns, I felt alive and energised after every weekend. The information given was very thorough and helpful and I felt confident enough to start teaching pregnancy yoga as soon as I finished. The bond we had as a class was also very special and brought a great atmosphere to learning, I remain in contact with several people from my course.

Thanks to all the team!

LOURDA SCOTT, PREVIOUS STUDENT

“I enjoyed the course immensely. The content was excellent and comprehensive without being overwhelming. I loved the studios and felt that your experience in the whole field of pre-natal yoga was very helpful and interesting. I particularly loved hearing the doula stories. Melissa presented the information in a very relaxed knowledgeable and confident way.”

JACQUIE, YOGA TEACHER, MOTHER OF 3

Your Instructors

Melissa Curtis

Melissa completed her first Perinatal Teacher Training with Robin Sale, founder of Wholebirth Resources, in the US.

She has taken workshops with Colette Crawford, one of West Coast of America's most renowned Prenatal and Active Birth Educators and completed Michele Odent's doula training. Melissa has been teaching pregnancy yoga for 10 years, is a children's yoga instructor and is the proud mother of Robyn Kai and Willow.

It is compulsory to have successfully completed the Prenatal teacher training course modules I - V in order to continue on to Mum & Baby Teacher Training.
